The Truth Will Out - Hatchard Report

For millennia humankind has been plagued by a succession of people and groups who thought they knew the secret of life. Their views have been forced on populations often with the threat or actuality of violence. This is still going on today but with a new twist. The biotechnology paradigm has attained cult status as the secret of immortality, but it is actually killing people.

A paper published in Science, Public Health Policy and the Law entitled "BioNTech RNA-Based COVID-19 Injections Contain Large Amounts Of Residual DNA Including An SV40 Promoter/Enhancer Sequence" concludes:

"Our results raise grave concerns regarding the safety of the BNT162b2 vaccine and call for an immediate halt of all RNA biologicals unless these concerns can be dispelled."

Meanwhile, ABC News Radio Australia reported on Sunday morning:

"The new Moderna production facility in Australia, would be able to produce a maximum of 100,000 doses of mRNA 'vaccine' per annum. These would not just be for covid, but seasonal influenza and h.p.v.. Also, it would produce mRNA 'vaccines' for certain cancers." Further, it erroneously and misleadingly stated, that "during the 'pandemic', Australian lives were lost due to the delay in importing the covid 'vaccines'."

In Britain, the Labour government has just committed to "giving ALL cows in England controversial Bovaer feed by 2030" – amid an ongoing dairy boycott over the ;unlabelled toxic biosynthetic additive.

Richard H. Ebright, Ph.D., is Board of Governors Professor of Chemistry and Chemical Biology at Rutgers University. He served for sixteen years as editor of the Journal of Molecular Biology. He has served on the National Institutes of Health Molecular Biology Study Section. He is a member of the Institutional Biosafety Committee, and he has been a member of the Antimicrobial Resistance Committee of the Infectious Diseases Society of America, the Working Group on Pathogen Security, and the Controlling Dangerous Pathogens Project of the Center for International Security Studies. He has testified at US House and US Senate hearings on biosafety, biosecurity, and biorisk management. So his words should carry weight (you can find his full 2022 testimony to the US Senate here: https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/wp-content/uploads/imo/media/doc/Ebright Testimony Updated.pdf):

“Researchers in Wuhan, as of 2018, had engineered SARS viruses to have a 10,000x increase in viral growth in lung, a 1,000,000x increase in viral growth in brain, and a 3x increase in lethality in mice that were engineered to possess human receptors for SARS viruses”

Although the research process at Wuhan has been shrouded in secrecy and obfuscation by governments and scientists alike, according to some commentators, to achieve this degree of pathogenicity, biotechnologists spliced genetic sequences onto the COVID-19 spike protein that are recognisably related to other feared virulent pathogens, plagues and toxins. So perhaps now it should be more obvious why the effects of COVID-19 linger for so long including lung weakness and brain fog. Moreover mRNA vaccines teach our cells to produce COVID-19 spike proteins, an extraordinary step which has only proliferated and worsened the toxic effects.

Moreover, among microbes and pathogens, genetic variation and sharing of sequences is the norm, raising the possibility, if not certainty, that the enhanced virulence of COVID-19 will be acquired by other microbes and disease vectors, something that might already be having an effect on our public health disaster. The effects of gene editing cannot be contained, they spread without limit and cannot be recalled.

Professor Ebright asks why the Wuhan gain-of-function research, which was funded by the US NIH, was not stopped when its initial results were known in 2018. No doubt you will join me in asking similar questions of our government. Why are you planning to deregulate biotechnology? Is it not madness and folly in the extreme, running counter to the known facts?

The Truth Will Out - Hatchard Report

So as we lurch towards an uncertain future controlled by misinformed government directives, the whims of modern day Frankensteins and biotech corporate interests, we can only ask: Where did it all go wrong?

Politicians today cannot even answer the question "What is a woman?" let alone "What is life?". Yet they are willing participants in the mad schemes of bioscientists divorced from everyday truths.

The biotech paradigm assumes that life consists of a lot of impossibly tiny bits and processes thrown together over billions of years by supposedly random evolutionary forces. These are described in mechanistic terms to the exclusion of any understanding of consciousness. A genetic and epigenetic system that according to this view can be redesigned to work better over a matter of weeks by clumsy human hands working with incredibly complex biological systems with trillions of trillions of elements invisible to the human eye or even microscopes. Well it didn't work. It all went terribly wrong over the last five years and appears all set to get worse over the next five.

Life is our most intimate experience, it is our WHOLE SELF and we are awake.

Living systems defy the second law of thermodynamics, the law of universal decay. Living systems grow and share information. Every part of an organism is capable of learning from experience and from other organisms. Living systems have a 'part and whole' structure. The whole is more than the sum of the parts. LIVING WHOLENESS is awake, conscious, its expression supported by the harmonious operation of trillions upon trillions of parts, all fulfilling individual roles crucial to the projection of the WHOLE. Mind and body participate in a symbiotic relationship where consciousness is the senior partner.

The Truth Will Out - Hatchard Report

Living systems are characterised by five fundamentals of progress—Stability, Adaptability, Integration, Purification and Growth.

For example:

- Stability is evident in homeostasis
- Adaptability to environments including climatic and dietary conditions
- Integration is the primary focus of digestion
- Purification is a focus of immune responses
- Growth is evident in the life cycle of all living systems

Yet bio engineering, such as that employed by mRNA vaccines:

- Upsets the Stability of cells by repurposing their functions
- Upsets the Adaptability of cells by fixing their functions to produce an alien protein sequence
- Upsets Integration by destroying the uniform genetic expression of cells
- Upsets Purification by teaching cells to self-produce toxins
- Upsets Growth through proliferation of rogue cells

By now it should be evident why we are seeing the daily reports in our newspapers of rapid onset cancers, heart disease, and other serious and tragic illnesses among young and old alike with an unprecedented frequency. A New Zealand Herald article “Senior emergency department physician warns hospital bed block is worst it’s ever been” puts the crisis in perspective. Bed block is an expression which simply means there are too many sick people and not enough hospital beds. Whilst admitting that overcrowding and wait times are worse than they have ever been, the article manages to dance around the topic at length without asking the obvious question: Why are so many people falling sick and what with?

The Truth Will Out - Hatchard Report

No wonder, because our government and Health New Zealand, presumably fearful of discovery, have stopped publishing such statistics. Where are people brave enough to face the truth? Truth is the essence of WHOLENESS. Truth is simple, natural, real and life supporting. Truth brings certainty and the capacity to face the future whatever it offers. Without truth, we are adrift in an endless sea of nothing. The health crisis has a cause, but without the data, our government can waffle about targets, administrative efficiency, overcrowding, funding and bed block to their heart's content. All the while confusing the public and concealing the truth.

The gene editing paradigm and the public relations promotional dream of disease-free life has turned out to be just that: a dream or rather a nightmare. It needs to go: lock, stock and smoking barrel. Right now we need scientists brave enough to change course, politicians brave enough to admit to error and correct mistakes, journalists with the capacity to ask probing questions and doctors who refuse to do any harm. People who can acknowledge the simple and obvious truth: that the capacity of consciousness is the essence of life.

Where are you? Please stand up and be counted. You could be walking on the right side of history.
